INTERSCHOLASTIC TEAMS ENTER FINAL CONTEST

League Sponsored by Ursinus to Close
With Debate in Bomberger

MEMBERS SHOW INTEREST

The banner race of the Ursinus College Interscholastic Debating League is drawing to a close for the school year 1924-25. A series of debates were held between the members of the League and the two teams remaining undefeated are East Greenville and Royersford. These teams will enter the final contest which will be held at Ursinus College in the near future to determine the victor of the banner.

The question used throughout the league was: "Resolved, That the United States Should Join the World Court at the Present Time With the Harding-Hughes Reservations." A new question will be used in the final tilt which will be selected by the contending teams.

The schools entering the contest were East Greenville, Allentown, Lehigh, Spring City, Royersford, Collegeville, Oxford, Newtown and Sellersville. Seven schools who are members of the Ursinus league have formed two leagues to compete for honors in their respective districts. The first district is composed of Cheltenham, Lower Merion and Abington, while the second district comprises Quakertown, Souderton, Perkasie and Lansdale.

The members of the league showed great interest and enthusiasm in the debates this year. On various occasions the teams sought judges from the College and Doctor Clawson and Professor Boswell served respectively as one man judge in different contests. The contest is an annual affair and it is a great movement in arousing the spirit of the debating art among high school students.

East Greenville now holds the banner from last year's contest and will fight hard to uphold its former record.

MISS GEST'S STUDENTS GIVE MUSIC RECITAL AT MAPLES

On Thursday evening, April 23, another one of the series of piano recitals was given under Miss Gest's direction. The audience, though small, was appreciative.

The musical opened with the "Evening Song," by Eunice Foss Christioni, played by Bernice Leo. As a second number she played Cecil Burleigh's "In Clover Fields." This was only Miss Leo's second appearance in recitals but she proved her ability as a coming pianist. Her selections were of a calm nature.

Mary Garber, one of Miss Mentzer's pupils, was next to play. Her first number was "Berceuse," a lullaby, by Alex. Ilynsky, followed by "Au Matin," one of Benjamin Godard's compositions. This was Miss Garber's initial appearance as a pianist but her selections were very well interpreted and showed a great deal of careful study.

La Rue Wertman followed with the "Spring Song" by Henselt, a German composer, and then "Souvenir," by Jules Devaux, a French composer.

The second half of the recital was given over to Miss Yost, who never fails to delight audiences with her great musical ability. Her first selection was "Prelude and Fugue in C Minor" by Bach after which she played the First Movement of "Sonata Appassionata" by Beethoven. As Miss Gest explained, this composition was written after Beethoven became deaf, so he never had the opportunity of hearing it. Miss Yost's interpretation of this classical selection was excellent. For her second group of numbers she played two selections from Chopin, "Prelude in D Flat" and F Sharp Nocturne."

MUSIC WEEK TO OPEN WITH RECITAL BY MISS MOSSER

National Music Week will be observed throughout the United States, beginning Sunday, May 3. Ursinus will open the week auspiciously, when the music department presents Sally Belle Mosser, '25, in a piano recital in Bomberger Hall, Monday evening, May 4, at eight o'clock.

Miss Mosser has frequently been heard at various affairs during the past two or three years, but this will be the first time the college has had the opportunity of hearing a recital by her. Her program will include compositions of Beethoven, Schubert, Chopin, Tchaikowski, etc., and she will be assisted by Rachael Whitmer, contralto, of Philadelphia.

Miss Whitmer is the possessor of an unusually smooth and rich contralto voice, and is a popular recital and church singer in Philadelphia.

She will sing a varied program and the evening is sure to prove most enjoyable.

VARSITY DEBATERS ENJOY DELIGHTFUL BANQUET

At a delightful banquet held in the College Dining hall, by the debaters George Haines was elected to manage the debating squad for the next term. Prof. Witmer, the coach, acted as toastmaster and presented Dr. Clawson who gave a short review of his experiences with debate. He was followed in order by the several debaters who spoke on different phases of the argumentation process. Five members will be lost from the teams by graduation and it is hoped that by the interest recently shown in the art, next season will find added, growing interest.

PROF. WITMER SENDS LETTER OF THANKS TO STUDENTS

As I have not had a chance in public, I hereby wish to thank the student body for the generous action which makes it possible for me to accompany Mr. Griffin to the National Oratorical Contest at Evanston, Ill. I accept your kindness, as I am sure you meant it, not so much as a personal tribute to me, but rather as a tangible proof that you are supporting Mr. Griffin and want to do all in your power to help him win.

Indirectly, of course, your action will have a more far-reaching influence. You have put yourselves on record as being squarely behind oratory at Ursinus when it is of such a nature as to deserve your support. This action will be a constant incentive to many of your own number to take up Forensics seriously and strive to emulate the success already won.

Moreover, by your hearty support you have shown that you have the constructive leadership which Ursinus has sometimes been accused of lacking. For these, as well as for personal reasons, I thank you most heartily for your gracious act.

M. W. WITMER.

MR. STONEBACK ADDRESSES THE Y. M. C. A. MEETING

"Jake" Stoneback provided the inspirational part of the Y. M. C. A. meeting last Wednesday evening with a very interesting and helpful talk. This speech pointed out some faults which exist in every college student and which need continual repression.

"Jake" introduced his message with the song and command of the angelic chorus, "Peace on earth, good will toward men." "For about one month of the whole year this is echoed and re-echoed throughout the country and is then apparently forgotten the other eleven," he stated. "During this month there is a general spirit of good will and happiness worked up,

"ARMS AND THE MAN" TO BE PRESENTED BY JUNIORS

Cast is Selected to Appear in One of Shaw's Best Comedies

MISS SHIPE IN LEADING ROLE

The play "Arms and the Man", which the Junior Class will present on May 22 bids fair to be one of the finest class plays produced in recent years. It has been staged several times by professional actors and appeared only recently in musical comedy form as "The Chocolate Soldier", specially arranged by the late Victor Herbert. Not only is the play in itself an excellent work, coming, as it does, from the pen of G. Bernard Shaw, but the cast selected is of an unusually high type, five of the seven members having had previous experience in outstanding productions.

The plot centers around the romance of Raina Pitkoff, a Bulgarian lady, and the complicated incidents which war brings into her life. Miss Catherine Shihe will portray this role. The part of a gay, adventurous Swiss soldier will be played by Augustus Welsh while MacDonell Roehm will appear as a chivalrous Bulgarian officer. None of these persons need further introduction for their remarkable abilities to portray stellar roles have been indelibly established here.

Supporting these are Winfred Derr and Charles Yaukey as the parents of Raina and Margaret Ehley and David Kern as servants of the house add an unexpected turn to the story.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB RENDERS CONCERT AT PHOENIXVILLE

Saxophone Solos by Haupt Add New Feature to Varied Program

The Men's Glee Club continued with their concert schedule after a lapse of two weeks due to the Easter holidays. The entire Glee Club program was rendered to the large and appreciative audience assembled in the high school auditorium—the concert given under the auspices of the senior class of the Phoenixville High School.

Elmer Haupt featured with his selections on the saxophone. It was Haupt's first appearance on the glee club program, but it is certain that he will play at the remaining concerts. He played "Laxema," "In Blue Bird Land" and "Saxophobias."

The Varsity Quartette again entertained with their selection of colored songs. Charles Hoerner played two new selections on the violin—"Roses of Picardy" and Berceuse "Jocelyn" by Godard.

Alton Peterman, baritone soloist, sang "The Blind Ploughman," "Trade Winds," and Mother Earely."

The Men's Glee Club will render a concert in Bomberger Hall on Thursday, May 7.

COACH ZIMMERMAN RESIGNS AS DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

Harold I. Zimmerman, Director of Athletics and Instructor in Physical Training for Men, has sent his resignation to President Omwake. The resignation is to become effective at the end of the present college year. Mr. Zimmerman came to Ursinus two years ago. The position to which he was called imposed upon him a diversity of requirements in that he was made directly responsible for the coaching in all of the three major sports as well as for the work in physical training. In all of these lines he rendered faithful service and achieved commendable success. During the two years of his administration the equipment of the Thompson Cage and the Field House has been much improved. He has also supervised the construction of the new track. The best wishes of Ursinus will follow him when, at length, he takes his departure for work in another field.

URSINUS TENNIS TEAM

LOSES MATCH TO MORAVIAN

The Ursinus tennis team traveled to Moravian at Bethlehem on Saturday afternoon. After "Fording" over the road for two hours, they immediately got into action, losing the contest 5 to 1.

In the single contests lost, the scores were: Spangler 2-6, 3-6; Oppenheimer, 2-6, 4-6; Reimert, 2-6, 1-6, and Herber, 0-6, 2-6.

Heiges and Reimert in the double contest lost 0-6, 0-6. The one point scored was due to the good work of Oppenheimer and Spangler who in their double contest won by the score of 6-4; 6-3.

MISS THREAPLETON SPEAKS TO CONSHOHOCKEN STUDENTS

Miss Dorothy Threapleton, newly elected president of the Women's Student Government Association, addressed the students of Conshohocken High School at Conshohocken last Thursday morning. The exercises were held in the high school assembly room under the direction of the Student Government.

Miss Threapleton's subject was "Student Government." She said: Student Government is modeled upon the government of our country for the purpose of giving practical experience to the students in the work of a great democracy."

In the conclusion of her address she said: "The real key to a well-organized, progressive student government is co-operation. Without it you can do nothing. With it you can have a real live organization that is bound to do good work and get the best possible results." After the address Miss Threapleton met the members of the Student Government of the High School and discussed the problems with them.

JAPAN COLLEGE OFFERS POSITIONS FOR WOMEN

There are openings for two young women teachers in the Miyagi College at Sendai, Japan. The president states that "Applicants for these positions should be young women who are active Christians sincerely interested in the establishment of Christ's Kingdom in Japan, are of good health and have a college education. Some knowledge of music would be of great value in the work. The major part of their time will be devoted to the teaching of English. The present-day Japanese girls welcome Christian leaders who will help them in their determined struggle upward." Persons interested should communicate with the Rev. Allen R. Bartholmew, D. D., Secretary, Board of Foreign Missions, Schaff Building, Philadelphia.

URSINUS NINE DROPS CLOSE GAME TO LEBANON VALLEY

Home Run Ends Twelve Inning
Pitcher's Duel of Diehm and Riegler

HAUPT'S BATTING FEATURES

Tuesday afternoon the Lebanon Valley nine met Ursinus on Patterson Field in an interesting exposition of the timely sport. It was a real fight from beginning to end, lasting twelve innings, and presenting one of the finest brands of college baseball. Everyone was deeply interested for the game was one of unusual merit, neither side giving up until the last man was out.

Riegler who pitched for the visiting team had the Ursinus boys baffled by his speed and his mixture. For Ursinus, Diehm deserves much credit for his pitching. Nowhere during the entire game did he relinquish, until finally weakening in the twelfth he was forced to retire. His stuff was too much for the opposition and seldom could they really connect fairly and squarely with the ball.

Haupt led in number of hits having secured four out of five appearances at the plate. He also led in the stealing of bases.

During the first two innings neither side tallied. In the third, however, Lebanon Valley took the lead by securing a single counter. Finn doubled and scored on Riegler's bingle. Again in the seventh Lebanon Valley scored another. Riegler tripled and Piersol followed but was set down. Piersol struck out but made first when Haupt failed to catch the last strike. On the same play Riegler scored. The two men who followed were soon removed and the Ursinus lads came in to show their stuff.

Haupt hit, stole second, and was sacrificed to third by Sterner. Jones reached first on an error and Haupt came home. Clark singled and Jones reached third. Sellers then singled and Jones came home. Diehm and Hoagey were set down in order. And so ended the scoring of Ursinus.

CHRISTIAN ORGANIZATIONS

Within the past several weeks the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations of the College have elected their new officers for next year. As these various cabinets are installed and take up the duties which have been assigned to them, there are numerous problems and responsibilities which they will be obliged to meet and solve during the coming year. The problem of Christian organizations is one of the most vital and far-reaching propositions on the entire campus. It affects every student in some way or other and the Associations can not be entirely successful unless there is a hearty co-operation by each individual in the institution.

One of the greatest problems that will face the new officers of the organizations is a way by which the students will become more interested in the work and evidence a greater concern in its activities. In order to stimulate this interest the new leaders of both Associations should take advantage of every opportunity that is afforded to them. They will be obliged to devise new plans to arouse the students and make them feel that it is their duty to support the Christian organizations. They must exert their influence through interesting programs and join meetings to foster closer relationships and cause the students to realize that their earnest co-operation is valuable. Regardless of how fine a spirit may have been prevalent during the past year or how good the programs may have been, there is always place for improvement. The new officers should study the conditions that prevailed in past years and base their campaigns upon the results of them. In like manner, they should attend conferences and Christian meetings to gain new views and a wider knowledge for the best methods of administration throughout the year.

On the other hand, if the students along with the members of the faculty will show that they are deeply interested in the efforts of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. and support them, the membership will increase and the organizations will become more progressive. With this co-operation manifested by all, better programs can be arranged, a closer spirit will become evident, and the entire institution will benefit as a result. Therefore, let all the students in the institution pledge to support the organizations and make this a most successful year. A. C. H., '26

AWAKE! ARISE! GO!

Along with the rapid material advancement that the world has experienced in the last few years, it has learned the importance of higher education. Within these few recent years in our land the demands for high grade leadership have increased as steadily as time.

Since the great war a spirit for education has developed far beyond the range of national selfish desires. Men have been brought to that point of realization wherein they have come to understand that their material education was far in advance of their spiritual aims and that the spirit of an international mind is needed. They are assured that with the present weapons at hand, one nation can in a very brief period utterly destroy an entire country. Warfare will not bring men together as brothers but the education of what love between nations really means will make them internationally minded.

The missionaries have done a vast amount of good for the furtherance of this attitude. We have recently heard a call by a most successful missionary for this cause. But beyond this call there burst on our ears the notes from the foreign university clarion. The universities abroad are offering scholarships for work in various fields of activity. This is the means for creating the love for one's brother nation that is so much needed upon the face of the earth at present.

Time was when a graduate from college was considered an almost completed individual. Recently demands have broadened and the university now does the final work, even foreign university work is preferable in many lines. Many students from Ursinus contemplate doing advanced work. Such experience and the benefit of foreign travel that would so well supplement a college course should encourage students from among us to seize the opportunity now facing us.

John Ingalls, so nobly states that opportunity knocks once at every gate, if sleeping, wake; if feasting, rise and go before it turns away. This appeal now comes to Ursinus students. The advantage for work in foreign fields was also recently pointed out showing that the real man or woman needs more than mere book knowledge for a complete education. What is needed is experience and development of character that such occasions present. We are a portion of the salt of the earth to give this much needed international flavor. How many of us will heed the call to foreign missionary work or to foreign university training and Awake! Arise! Go! G. H. H. '27

SCHAFF

Schaff held its regular meeting on Friday evening at which time the newly elected officers were installed. Mr. H. Herber opened the meeting by presenting a very interesting and touching inaugural speech, taking as his theme the motto of the society, "Prudens Futuri." This he applied to the future of the college, of the individual and finally the future of the Society.

Miss Kuder opened the program with a piano solo. The pleasing and popular melody of the "Venetian Love Song" by Nevin was received with great enthusiasm on the part of the audience and displayed real shading and ability in interpreting as was also shown in the familiar "Country Gardens" by Grainger.

Schaff has found another interesting reader in the person of Miss Staudt when she took as a book review "The Blue Bird" by Maeterlink. In a very pleasing manner, the search of the difficulties of finding true happiness was set forth. Miss Stevenson and Miss Flitcraft followed with a musical number in the form of Hawaiian melodies, vividly reflected on the minds of the hearers.

Miss Leo's pantomime of "Dutch Cleanser" was presented in a new and fascinating form. The scene was all the more animated because of the presence of the real atmosphere of Holland.

The remainder of the program was an impromptu one consisting of contrasting numbers. Miss Chase gave one of Longfellow's poems. Miss Shippe and Mr. Paine portrayed some "Nonsense" in which they gave a dialogue on events occurring on the campus. "Some Jazz" by Miss Pauff was equally enjoyed.

The newly elected officers: President, Mr. Howard Herber; vice president, Mr. Brachman; recording secretary, Miss Park; corresponding secretary, Miss Burr; pianist, Miss Chase; chaplain, Mr. Blum; critic, Miss Borker; janitor, Mr. Danner; assistant janitor, Miss Fetters, first editor, Miss Gross; second editor, Miss Ort; third editor, Miss Kassab.

The University of London is the largest institution of its kind in the world, having more colleges affiliated with it than any other, and covering 212 acres.

On Friday night in Zwing the Freshmen displayed their versatile talents in a miscellaneous program. Miss Wertman opened with two well played selections, "Spring Song" by Hamel and Devoe's "Souvenir."

Miss Lois Nickel read an O. Henry story in her characteristic, pleasing style. Mr. Krasley delighted his audience with two vocal numbers.

A charming little old-fashioned minuet dance formed the background for Miss Charlotte Berger's reading "Minuet of Long Ago." Mr. Novario entertained with a remarkably clever chalk talk, which showed his ability.

Misses Bisbing and Farnsler in picturesque costumes interpreted a Spanish dance. A humorous sketch was given under the direction of Miss Stibitz and Mr. Bigley.

Mr. Faust closed the program with an excellent review on "The National Pastime."

Zwing was very glad to welcome into active membership Miss Kathryn Levengood, of Birdsboro, Pa.

DEAN WHITE ADDRESSES Y. W.

Helen Walbert, the chairman of Religious Meetings on the newly-elected cabinet, led a Y. W. meeting, Wednesday evening in Bomberger Hall. After scripture reading and prayer, since the outside speaker could not come the meeting was turned over to Dean White, who kindly substituted at the eleventh hour. She gave a most interesting talk describing all sizes and types of European churches she has seen. To make the portrayal more vivid she supplemented her discussion with many picturesque views from her collection. The meeting was delightfully informal, and so different as to be of absorbing interest. The meaning of World Fellowship seemed to crystallize as the girls observed and commented on edifices from the magnificent cathedrals of Notre Dame and Rheims, to the bare chapels of Iona.

The meeting was held at six-thirty, the time originally set for Y. W. meetings. It is to be hoped that every girl will find it convenient to attend the meetings held directly after dinner.

The Tower Window

RECENTLY I was asked to state in about four hundred words my idea of what is required of a teacher in an avowedly Christian college. What I wrote may be of interest to readers of this column.

The first test commonly applied in attempting to determine whether or not a college is Christian is the credal one. Opinion will differ as to whether this is the most important test, but no one will deny the vital importance of belief in the person who is to discuss truth, impart knowledge and develop character. A college can hardly be said to be Christian in which the teachers lack the Christian faith. How far shall we insist on uniformity in the content of the religious beliefs of individual teachers, and how nearly must they conform to classical standards?

The intellectual element in religion depends upon the nature of mind, and what in human life is more variant than the subtle thing we call mind? It is remarkable that there are so many common elements as actually exist in the thought of the race. We must remember that in an educational institution the primary purpose is to stir up intelligence and keep it active. We must therefore expect new ideas and allow for individual differences. Uniformity in mental processes and ideas among intelligent persons is strongly suggestive of mediocrity. Furthermore, one sees what he is prepared to see through experience. Scholars in the various fields of learning therefore interpret the same data of knowledge differently. It cannot be otherwise. It follows, that every view is only partial. To expect a professor to know the whole truth, or all of truth, is to expect him to be more than human, and to expect him to accept wholly and finally the ideas of any individual or group of individuals in any particular age, unless these ideas satisfy his own mind, is to make a virtue of intellectual dishonesty. The teacher should be free in his search of truth and faithful in presenting what he finds.

If freedom should be restricted it is at the same point at which truth is restricted by falsehood. When a teacher's intellectual processes lead to his being regarded as "eccentric," or his ideas as being "false" by a considerable number of his fellow workers, he should relieve the institution to which he is attached of the embarrassment of his presence.

What is really wanted in the Christian teacher is that he shall have the spirit of Christ in his heart and conduct all his researches with the love of God as a motive and guide toward the truth. It is the Christian position that the investigator and teacher who in his heart makes himself a co-worker with God will be the most successful in discovering and imparting the truth. The Christian professor is also evangelistic, imparting his own attitude and spirit to his students.

It follows then, that, other things being equal, the institution of learning in which the spirit of Christ animates the laboratory and class room is superior not only as a moral force in society, but as an agency for the discovery of truth and the education of mankind. G. L. O.

BRENNER WRITES ARTICLE

The Reformed Church Messenger, April 16, 1925 contains an article by Scott Brenner, class of '26 of Ursinus College. The article is entitled "Zwingli Humanist-Modernist?" It deals with the doctrines of the churches down through their existences and especially emphasizes the phases of the Reformed Church. He shows how the church has kept pace in past years with other advances and concludes by pointing out the necessity of open mindedness in the Modern Church.

The World's championship in inter-collegiate debating has finally passed out of the hands of Bates, a small Maine college, and now rests with Colgate, a college of nearly the same size as Bates in New York State. —The New Student.

BROTHERHOOD OF ST. PAUL

The Brotherhood of St. Paul held its regular meeting in Schaff Hall on Thursday evening. The program was one of unusual merit, not only because of the excellent style contained in the papers that were read, but because of individuals who wrote them—those who can really think beyond the mysticism that seems to haze religion.

"Is War Christian," by Mr. George Haines, was a well prepared paper on a timely and ever-pervading subject. The style in which it was written left one to judge mainly for himself whether or not war is Christian. His own judgments were not outstanding but rather the judgments of men of experience and men who should know.

Mr. Fred Pentz followed this with a paper on "Prayer," giving its history and growth from the psychological and philosophical view points. But as men come to think, cast aside their prejudices and past conceptions—now perhaps out of date in a thinking age—they will then realize that this new idea of prayer must prevail.

Professor Boswell was present at the meeting and spoke upon the Christianity of war from an economist's view. What he believes, and what all of us must sooner or later believe, is that war cannot be stopped until the economic barriers, which at present separate countries, are lifted.

Al Brown of Rutgers won the 200 yard breast stroke swim in the Inter-collegiate Individual Championships at Yale University.

Stoneback Addresses Y. M. C. A.

but it soon dies out. What application has all this to our college life? There are several faults in all of us which are outstanding, and it is by the application of the principle involved in 'Peace on earth, good will toward men' that we are able to correct them.

"One fault which is noticeable in our life here is that of judging hastily or without sufficient knowledge."

"Too often, also, we are inclined to criticise a man for something he has done without thinking of the motive which caused him to do it. We should at least give him the benefit of his motive and in the light of his reason construe the action.

In order to correct these faults we should truly try to bring "Peace on earth and good will toward men" to pass. We must think of good will continually, give the other fellow the benefit of the motive, and ignore the small, petty things which defame.

STUDENTS PROTEST ELIMINATION OF JOURNALISM SCHOOL

When the board of regents of the University of Texas meets on May 19 it will be confronted with a petition protesting against the abandonment of the department of journalism. The department was discontinued because Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, Texas' first woman governor, cut from the general education bill the $19,000 necessary for the support of the department.

The journalism students have prepared a 10,000 word brief stating why they think the school should not be discontinued. It is stated that the regents have the power to appropriate funds for maintenance of the school from an emergency fund set apart by the legislature.

Of the 210 students in the department of journalism 50 will graduate in June; 100 will be forced to give up college careers because of lack of funds to continue their training in an out-of-state school; 60 will be able to go out of Texas to complete their training.

In answer to the protests of the 40,00 students and of prominent newspaper editors throughout the state, who have protested against the discontinuance of the school, James E. Ferguson, husband of the governor states:

"Walter M. Splawn, president of the university, when informed that a cut of appropriation was necessary, chose the department of journalism as one that must bear the paring. Dr. Splawn thought the university would be hurt less by the elimination of the journalism, music and library science departments and the summer school, than by reducing the saving of $250,000 by reducing to some extent the sums appropriated for every department and school of the university. The Governor will be criticised in certain circles; but she simply did her duty in fulfilling campaign pledges."

—The New Student.
